

Kellen Marethet

Cleric of Tymora, Yesharian Goddess of Life and Good Luck

Hello to you! If you would like to get to know my skill sets further, go ahead and Send me. Do me a favor and please let me know you're asking after this posting, though! If you are within the area of the Circle of Protection in Tolia, you can also visit my potion shop and chapel. The shop is called Fortune's Favor. Just look for the big painted coin.

Please note, I am looking to keep my skills sharp and make new friends on breaks from running my shop. Not interested in epic goals or dark journeys. I'm here to worship my Goddess and help people!

Education:

- Formally trained in medical care and treatment by Gallen Wright, physician for the area including my hometown. He taught me potions, too.

Experience:

- 6th level divine caster, 1st level natural caster.
- Experience holding concentration under extreme duress. Experience operating as combat healer. Experience dealing with extreme cold, famine, plague, and sophisticated illusions.
- Limited experience interacting with friendly dragons.

- Note: Please don't try to charm me or control me through mind manipulation. I have experience with that, too. It's a low, low tactic and a very sore point for me. Plus, I will know.
